Kansas Registered Dietitian Nutritionists (RDN) in Primary Care

Food and Nutrition Experts

RDNs are graduates of an ACEND-approved bachelor's degree or higher plus have completed an ACEND-approved supervised practice of 1200 hours and passed a national registration exam.

Cassandra Bumsted, RDN, LD
Wichita, KS

Are you ready to add a RDN to your healthcare team?

Medical Nutrition Therapists

RDNs are skilled nutrition professionals who use evidence-based recommendations that result in improved health outcomes for your patients.

Sam Gross, RDN, LD
Hayes, KS

Do you need help finding the right RDN for your practice?

Cost Effective Providers

RDNs provide individualized nutrition interventions and follow up care that reduce hospital stays and prescription drug use.

Anna Binder, RDN, LD
Manhattan, KS

The Kansas Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is here to help.

Contact Abby Heidari, KSAND Executive Director:
director@eatrightks.org or 913-777-4532