

Kansas Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

OCTOBER MEMBER SPOTLIGHT: Dr. Susan Lukwago, PhD, RD, LD

Nutrition Services Coordinator
Nine WIC Agencies in SW Kansas

Susan happily resides and works in Southwest Kansas. She is very blessed to bring two of her academic loves – nutrition and public health – to her life's work.

Meet Dr. Susan Lukwago

Susan serves as Nutrition Services Coordinator for 9 WIC Agencies in Southwest Kansas. She drives around SW Kansas quite a bit! She is also the Co-Coordinator of the (Kansas Health Foundation) Healthy Communities Initiative: Health Equity and BCBSKS Pathways grant, through the Liberal Area Coalition for Families, for Seward County. She previously coordinated the Chronic Disease Risk Reduction Grant for Seward County too.

Susan loves the fact that healthy nutrition affects everything living creatures are and do. She has had a chance to work in acute care as well as public health and loves the combination of public health and nutrition. It is basically a ticket to write your own job wherever you are ... and love what you are doing. And you get to meet a wide variety of people which is enlightening and humbling.

Susan also serves on the board of Seward County United Way as well as the Kansas Breastfeeding Coalition ... yet more ways in which being a dietitian has opened doors to volunteer in the best ways!
